TD&P Consulting focuses on helping its clients understand damages in complex litigation. We calculate the value of past and future medical expenses by using market data coupled with statutory and regulatory analysis. Ultimately, by integrating quantitative and qualitative data, TD&P generates trustworthy information.

TD&P also provides objective life care plan analysis for its clients. We support attorneys involved in litigation, and help claimants identify their medical costs and needs. More importantly, TD&P offers insight to healthcare law and regulation enabling clients to understand and address challenges.

TD&P's experience guarantees clients access to information that is reliable and services meeting the most exacting standards of quality.
